PERSONAL RETREATS at Rolling Ridge

The idea of a retreat is nothing new or radical. The impulse to retire from the confusion of complex life, to break away from well-worn habit, to escape the demands of ordinary life and to seek a place apart to rest, reflect and renew has always lain at the heart of the spiritual journey.

Within the Judeo-Christian tradition, we see how Jesus often withdrew to a quiet place to pray and urged his disciples to go apart and reflect about their mission. Time away to look back and remember is one of the best ways to catch a glimpse of the activity of God, to discover the meaning of life’s experiences, to find hints of new directions.

Making a retreat, like most spiritual experiences, is a journey into solitude, then back into the human circle.

There is a deep need within the human heart to look back upon our lives with reverence and gratitude, and to look forward into our lives with strength and hope and great measures of generosity. —Tom Gedeon
